SITE

The 19th century was a period of enormous expansion for the Post Office. The county directory describes the Post Office in 1875 – 1879 as “Post, money order and telegraph office, savings bank & Government annuity and insurance office, London Road – postmaster George Henry Cooper”. The building carries memories from both locals as well as visitors; it is a place that has emotional value and provides identity due to its services having been used by all groups of the public in the past.
